Guidance Services

RBC

Each fall parents send their children off to high school. The decision of where to send them is influenced by geography, culture and aspirations. The decision is also influenced by a hope that their student be guided, assisted and nurtured as they navigate uncharted and profound territory. How their gifts, their talents, their academic, social and personal needs will be recognized, supported and directed is specifically the role of the Guidance Department. Guidance is a source of advocacy, direction and information for students and parents.

Our philosophy of "everyone matters and everyone is unique" is the foundation for all guidance activities. Our approach to serving our students is designed to meet needs inherent to each grade level as well as address unique personal situations that require patience, time, professionalism and individual attention. Communication, the sharing of ideas and concerns, is the key to successfully meeting those needs

TEACHER ADVISOR PROGRAM

We strive to create a culture at RBC that fosters a faculty partnership with guidance. We are aware that freshmen in particular have unique concerns and needs. Helping them find their way early on is critical to their successful adjustment to high school. Our Teacher Advisor Program was developed to address this. Teacher Advisors are faculty members chosen specifically for their unique interpersonal gifts. They work exclusively with small numbers of freshman in groups and individually. Teacher Advisors work under the direct supervision of guidance counselors. They are an important first resource and a liaison between teachers, students and their families. Students are assigned a guidance counselor in their sophomore year who works in partnership with them until they graduate.

SPECIFIC COUNSELING SERVICES

Our professional Guidance Counselors schedule a private conference with their students and parents each year. Several adjunct professionals team with guidance to ensure that we are fully equipped to address the needs of every student. We have a full time Learning Consultant to oversee all aspects of our classified students' journey at RBC. There is a faculty staffed Enrichment Center available to all students seeking specific help with a specific subject or writing and study skills enhancement. We engage a Student Assistance Coordinator and a Social Worker as part of our counseling team. These professionals help to ensure that we can address the myriad of needs high school students may have.

SPECIAL EMPHASIS SEMINARS

Parents are partners in their child's high school education. Guidance sponsors unique programs each with a specific focus. These seminars are designed to inform and direct students and parents at different signposts on the journey.

There are a series of large group sessions for each grade level. The focus of the freshmen seminar is "making the most of every opportunity." The sophomore session alerts students to the need to start thinking about future careers and college early. Junior and senior level programs offer a hands-on approach to successfully manage the college search, decision and enrollment process. A unique seminar is offered in partnership with the Athletic Department focusing on the special needs of and the demands on the student athlete. These seminars are a source of information and an opportunity for parents and students to participate and plan together.

RESOURCES ON THE GUIDANCE WEBSITE

The guidance website, www.rbcguidance.com, is continually updated with the latest resources for academics, volunteer service, college, careers and scholarships. Red Bank Catholic is a college prep high school, and as such we anticipate that every student aspires to further their education. Consistently over the last 20 years, 99% of each senior class goes on to 2 or 4 year colleges. Resources, such as the web link from the guidance website to "Naviance Family Connection," provide students and parents with concrete data to help them make informed decisions about the right college match for them.

Our overall approach to guidance reflects our ambition to treat each student and each situation individually. There are no "one size fits all" answers here. We design programs to encourage our students to "Dream Big... Live Large... Prepare at RBC."
